- Check that you are entered in the correct grade and special recognition category

Protests:

All protests will be processed according to the current ICORE Rulebook

“Competitor protests regarding scoring and/or Range Officer’s decisions must be made verbally, first to the Range Officer in charge of the stage, then to the Range Master* or Match Director. If no consensus can be reached, a written protest along with a protest fee of double the normal match fee or $100, whichever is less, must be submitted to the Match Director within one hour of the verbal protest. The Match Director will choose an Arbitration Committee. It will consist of one Match Official and two competitors. The Match Director, Range Master*, and the involved Range Officer cannot be on the Arbitration Committee. The Committee’s decision must be made before final match scores are posted. The Committee’s decision must be in writing and is final. If the protester prevails, the fee is refunded, if not, the Match Director keeps the fee. All written protests and written decisions, whether won or lost, should be sent to the rule’s director within 60 days.”

If a shooter has a protest, they are not to sign the score sheet. If the Match Director or Chief Range Officer are in the process of competing, they are not to be contacted until after they have completed the stage, they are competing in.

The protest fee for the ICORE 20th Regional Revolver Championship 2022 has been set at AUD$100 (one hundred Australian dollars). Protest fees are to be lodged in cash with the Match Director. For this match the Range Master will be the Chief Range Officer.
